

Here Is Your Free Pet Immunizations Awareness Kit!

With inflation worries occupying the minds of so many people, pet owners may have forgotten about pet immunizations to protect their pets against rabies and other disease risks that, in some cases, can infect people. This kit is designed to save your practice time educating and reminding clients about the importance of immunizing their pets against preventable diseases, and to encourage appointments.

This free kit includes:

- Two educational handouts for clients: Vaccines for Cats: Synopsis of a ClientEd Handout and Vaccines for Dogs: Synopsis of a ClientEd Handout—that you can print or email.
- Three social media images for Facebook to further remind clients about the importance of pet immunizations.
- An infographic of pet vaccines and boosters: The Whys and Hows of Building Immunity in Your Pets.
- A pre-written email template for your clients: 5 Common Pet Vaccine Questions Answered

Please note: If you currently subscribe to ClientEd, the pet health education library that supports efficient client education, you have access to the full versions of Vaccines for Cats and Vaccines for Dogs. You also have access to additional client education handouts about seasonal disease risks and pet immunizations, including:

- Indoor Dogs and Infectious Disease
- Indoor Cats and Infectious Disease
- Care for Your Pet After Vaccination

If you're not a ClientEd subscriber, now is a great time to discover why more veterinarians choose ClientEd to save time and increase team efficiency.

Try ClientEd free for 30 days. Get immediate access. No credit card required.

ClientEd is a unique pet health education library designed to strengthen your veterinary team's role as effective animal health educators and encourage client compliance through easy-to-understand information. Written and reviewed by animal health and communication experts, ClientEd contains more than 2,100 handouts that cover a wide range of pet health topics and species. Handouts are written in plain language, include many custom illustrations, and can be shared in print or digital form.

Try ClientEd Free for 30 Days

